CONDENSED EGGS.

ITHIS NEW ARTICLE, recently placed upon the Market, consists simply of fresh-laid HENS' EGGS, from which most of the water has been evaporated, and being hermetically sealed, remains perfectly sound. The EGGS thus condensed are obtained in the Empire of China, and canned in the immediate vicinity in which they are produced, thereby avoiding the deterioration to which EGGS are subjected when transported in the shell. So that, in point of fact, the CONDENSED EGGS preserved under the patent of A. R. Davis, furnish to the consumer, EGGS possessing more perfectly the properties of fresh-laid EGGS than those ordinarily supplied to any city The CONDENSED EGGS will beat up into light froth as readily as EGGS taken immediately from the shell, and are equally valuable in making Cakes, Custards, Creams Pastry, Puddings, Egg-Nog, &c., &c.

ECONOMY.

For Hotels, and Restaurants, or for Families, or Vessels at sea, this Article is invaluable, as there is no loss from breakage or decay, and a tin will keep for any length of time after opening, being sealed only for transportation.

One Table spoonful is equal to one Egg. Add equal amount of water (warm is preferable); dissolve it well; then use same as

We cannot say we have any great amount of sympathy for the Czar, or rather for that party in Russia who hastened on the war. The warmes supporters of the Muscovite cause must admit that the struggle could have been avoided by Russia had she chose. Nor that mere sympathy for the Bulgarians led the armies of the Czar across the Danuba. Other European countries with Russia could and would have exacted all the satisfaction and concessions no doubt to the war party in St. Petersburg, chose to carry the affair with high hand, and rushed in with fire and sword. By a sudden turn of for- illusionists a pretty shrewd guess can be made as to the manner in which tricks are performed, but the most "cute" among the audience last night had to confess their bewilderment. Cards were made to do apparently as Mr Kellar willed; sugar, coffee and milk appeared without apparent agency of any kind in goblets placed in full view of the audience; rings borrowed from the audience were, if one's eyes were to be believed, smashed up, and subsequently taken uninjured from a box enclosed in some half a dozen others that had been hanging up on the platform; guines pigs placed in a box by a young midshipmen were made to suddenly appear inside a bottle; real flowers were induced to grow in about two seconds; fire was swallowed by the handful, while, perhaps, one of the best tricks, a cage and bird were made to yanish into thin air right before the night of everybody in the Theatre. The most fun was no doubt created in the cabinet seance, Bound down to a chair as tightly as a couple of gentlemen from the audience could tie him, with hands and feet equally well scourteeman" before the latter had succeeded in shutting the illusionist into his cabinet. Mr Kellar succeeded in entirely freeing himself from the rope in something less than a minute. Ling Look's performance only occupied a small park of the evening, and mainly consisted of amazing tricks with fire. Mr Kellar promised in the course of the evening to explain some or the whole of his tricks before he leaves Hongkong. The Theatre was not well filled, although there can be no doubt of a full house to-morrow (Saturday) evening, when the next entertainment will be given. PRIZE VEGETABLE SEEDS. To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL." Hongkong, October 12, 1877.

SIE,-I am sorry to again trouble you upon this matter of prize vegetable seeds, but feel compelled to ask you to insert the following facts. They will show that the statement I made, in my letter to Messrs James Carter & Co., was quite correct and not by any means exaggerated, although it was never my intention to have had it flaunted as a published testimonial. I have to thank you for the note you added to the letter you published from "Veritas," this year (1877) being clearly out of the question on the 2nd June 1876. On that date I wrote. "At our local show for the last four years I have always taken the first and the greatest number of Prizes for produce of believe that war was raging so close Your Vegetable Seeds." To prove that I am within the mark I may add that in 1878 I took for vegetables alone sie prizes, three next morning I found we were going half first and three second; in 1874 I also had speed through a thick fog, a good look-out size, two first, two special, one second, and being kept by everybody. We remained there until no one was looking in our direction, and then we quietly got up and stepped on one side. There was a lady in at the time, looking for a bonnet shaped to suit her. She finally found the one we had put in shape, and it took her fancy; it was just what she wants Ohina.

FOOGHOW. (Herald, Oct. 4th.)

We are glad to learn that the missing Pilot-boat Marie has returned to port, havweather.

The Postmaster General of Hongkong is now on an official visit to this port. foreign community will therefore have an opportunity of ventilating grievances, and we believe that Mr Lister invites suggestions as to postal matters. Chief amongst these should be a permanent arrangement in regard: to the receipt and despatch of homeward mails. There ought to be a mail subsidy for the coast ports.

We observe that there is every probability of the Courier Service between this port and Amoy being continued for a further period of three months from the 1st proximo. the present time, the news from Europe, commercial and political, is of more than usual interest, and we should therefore regret any suspension of the service.

> On the morning of the 1st instant, Dr. J. M. Beaumont, a much-esteemed member of this community, breathed his last. In recording this mournful event we feel that we are only giving expression to the general sentiment when we say that few incidents of a like melancholy character have ever extorted from this community greater or more genuine demonstrations of public regret; and we will add that the social voice in this Settlement caused by Dr. Beaumont's death cannot be easily filled. The deceased gentleman was not only gifted in his pro-Tession, but possessed of companionable qualities of a high order, while he was by nature endowed with a genial disposition and love of fairness that endeared him to allbut more especially to the younger members of the community. His refined tastes were well known, and his services in connection with the Club Library have elicited the following recognition from the Committee that institution :- "Rosolved that in view of the late Dr. Beaumont's eminent services to this Club since its foundation, and his valuable aid as a member of Committee. especially in matters connected with the Library, the Committee is unanimously desirous of placing on record an expression of its deep regret at his untimely decease." Of him it might be aptly said:

> THE RUSSIANS IN THE DOBRUDSCHA.

A REFUGEE'S STORY. CONSTANTINOPLE, August 12. Having been kindly favoured by Messrs Hanson with a passage in their steamer Olotilde, bound for Kustendjie, 1 determined to go up there in the hopes of seeing the Russians, who were said to be in possession of the place, and to look after some property we had left behind us in our flight from that place a week or two previously. The Clotilde started from Sali Bazar at five p.m. on Tuesday, the 17th, and entered the Black Sea at seven p.m It was a beautiful evening, the sea as smooth and calm as a lake, and everything looked so peaceful that one could hardly band. We had several passengers on board, tures hazarded by these poor people as to whether they would be allowed to land by the Russians, supposing that the latter were really there. When I came on deck barely discern objects at the top. Suddenly A. G.
